United Safety

Powering the Safety Revolution.™

EST 1987

Numerous success stories, one dynamic team.

- Respected as a thought leader in Oil and Gas safety
- Dynamic environment with ample growth opportunities
- Training and mentoring to help you develop your skills
- Global presence that allows you to take your career to new places

United Safety is a leading global provider of specialized safety equipment, personnel and solutions to the Oil and Gas industry. For over 28 years, United Safety has been delivering proprietary, innovative solutions that improve safety while enhancing efficiency. Our services include Industrial and Upstream Safety Management and Operational Safety Integrity Management Services (OSIMS™). We employ over 1,000 people from different backgrounds and have operations in 19 countries across the Americas, Africa, Middle East, Asia and Europe.

One global company, endless career opportunities

United Safety's reach is global and so are your career opportunities. Our vast presence and diverse activities allow us to give you room to grow in the direction you want. A career with United Safety could take you around the corner – or around the world. This also translates into an incredibly diverse group. We are a multi-cultural team and we cultivate local development, and cultural integration everywhere we operate.

Training and Professional Development

United Safety training programs are aimed at developing your technical knowledge as well as other professional skills such as communications, teamwork, leadership and general business understanding.

Progression is driven by your own determination and not by how long you have been in the company. You will be working in a dynamic environment, where you will be mentored and encouraged to take initiative and perform at your best, in order to take your career to the next level.

Who are we looking for?

At United Safety we are passionate about what we do. We are dedicated to our clients and their projects and want to work with others who share the same values.

To continue to grow and thrive, we strive to attract, retain and recognize consciously committed employees focused on creating value for our customers. We are looking for motivated and persistent people, who are resilient, adaptable and maintain exceptional quality, ethics and responsible care practices.

Come for the job, stay for the challenge.
